PRIVATE NELSON'S SHOT.

THE TRAGEDY ON THE RAMPARTS OF FORT HAMILTON DESCRIBED.

opecation Closed-Nelson's Lawyer Will Try to Show Homieldal and Saicidal Tendencies in His Pamily for Generations The trial of Henderson L. Nelson of Battery A. First United States Artillery, who killed on May 24, was continued yesterday in the United States Court before Judge Benedict in Brooklyn. The prisoner in his uniform sat like a statue throughout the proceedings. While the description of the killing, which is admitted. was going on. Nelson's face showed no change. pening address told of the altercation about the money lost and won over the automatic horse-racing machine between Nelson and Kane, of the interference of McLean, and of Nelson's going to the Government Reserva-tion, getting his rifle, and killing McLean.

Surgeon Woodruff testified that McLean had lived twenty-four hours after he had been shot. and that the bullet had gone clear through his Private Plumb, formerly of Battery I, was at Napier's Hotel on May 24, and had witnessed the betting. On cross-examination by Gen. Catlin, he testified that McLean entered after the betting was over. He came in and seized the money, and returned to each better the amount he had wagered. McLean, he said, was a dangerous man, a pugilist, and far stronger than Nelson.

at Napler's on the latal day, testified to the following conversation and occurrences: "I following conversation and occurrences: "I win the money," says Nelson. "All right," says Kane. Then McLean came and said. "You're robbing that man," and he took the money from the stakeholder and gave it back to both men. Nelson said he'd down McLean in twenty minutes. The witness didn't know to whom he said it. On cross-examination the witness said that it was his day off, and that he was a little drunk. Gen. Carlin-Do you think it necessary to get good and drunk when you have a day off? "Yes, sir," very meekly.

Richard M. Earl, who has been in the army

Gen. Catiin—Do you think it necessary to get good and drunk when you have a day off?

"Yes. sir." very muckly.
Richard M. Earl, who has been in the army for twenty-one years, testified that about of P. M. on May 24 kane and Nelson were walking along toward the Reservation. They were joined by McLean, who shoved in between them. "Twenty minutes later," the winess continued. "Nelson came back alone. He got over the fence. I was standing on the parapet. Ten or fifteen minutes after Nelson climbed the fence McLean came along. Then Nelson came back holding his gun. I said to McLean, 'Run!' McLean called out to Sentry O'Mally. That man is going to shoot me!' The sentry said to Nelson: Put that gundown!' Nelson came up quick and fired. When I saw the gun raised I jumped off the parapet. I heard a report, and then I heard McLean say: 'My God, I am shot!' Then I hurried to the hospital and got a stretcher. I lirst saw Nelson when he was about twenty-five yards away."

On cross-examination the witness said Nelson was "at a ready the moment he came in sight." That means that he held his rifle in front of him as a soldier would do who is ready to raise it to his shoulder.

Sorgeant McCarthy of Battery A said he was in the non-commissioned officers' room when Nelson came in selson came in and and asked for his rifle.

Sergeant McCarthy of Battery A said he was in the non-commissioned officers' room when Nelson came in and and asked for his rife. He said that he wanted it for guard duty the next day. His appearance was different from ordinary. He seemed to be excited. Crossexamined, McCarthy said Nelson's eyes had a peculiar look that day. Michael Quigley of Battery A said he was in the room when Nelson came in and said he wanted to clean his gun. He takked loudly then.

Gen. Cattin - Have you ever heard him complain of his head? A - Yes, sir; very often, and ne looked very pale then.

Q-Did you ever see him have a fit? A - Yes, sir; once when we were coming from Frisco. He was carried kicking and struggling to his i unk. He was unconsc ous for five or six minutes.

gling to his i unk. He was unconsecous for two or six minutes.

John O'Malley of Battery G was on sentry duty May 24. He saw Earl and McLean, who were taking, and saw Nelson coming along at a dog frot holding a gun in his hands. He said:

Helle, what s the matter?" He didn't answer. McLean saw him and said:

This man is going to shoot me." The witness saw him cock his rifle while on the run. The witness continued as follows:

ing to shoot me." The witness saw him cock his riffe while on the run. The witness continued as follows:

"I am shot, said McLean. I said. Brace up, you are only shot through the hand." Nelson said: If it is only through the hand. I'll soon faish him. I said: If you make a motion I'll shoot you. Then Nelson-said: 'Den't shoot. I'll give myself up."

On gro-s-examination it was shown, that O'Melley's threat to shoot "was a binfi," as his riffe was not loaded. The witness also said: 'Nelson was very pale and wild-looking. I never saw anything like it before, and don't want to see it again." Sergeant Clark of Battery A. was present when Nelson gave himself up. "He looked as if he was excited." said this witness. "I never saw him look like that nefore. I often heard him complain of shis head. There were no cartrigges in his box or on his person." Lieut Best, Battery I, officer of the day on May 24, testified: "I saw Nelson's riffe just after the shooting. It contained one empty cartridge. Nelson was in his bunk. I asked him what the trouble had been between himself and McLean. Why, he is the fellow who was lurt. wasn't he? Afterward he said. 'That self and McLean, and after a nause he replied:

"McLean? Why, he is the fellow who was hurt, wasn't he? Afterward he said. That damped brute came along and took the money away from the stakeholder. I don't mind the money, but I hate to be bliked out of it. His conduct and appearance were very strange."

The prosecution rested yesterday and Congressman Ellis of Kentucky will open for the defence on Monday. He will endeavor to prove homicidal and suicidal tendencies in branches of Nelson's family during four generations, and will show that Nelson ran away from a good home ten years ago, and that his whereabouts was only discovered by a chance item in a san Francisco paper. Nelson is well connected socially.

A Steam Pipe Explodes in the Hall of the Washington, Dec. 11.—The equanimity of the few members and loungers in the hall of the House this afternoon was rudely shaken by the explosion of a steam pipe. A rush was made for the doors as soon as the report was heard, the first belief being that some crunk had attempted to frighten the members. Order was immediately restored, however, though a volume of steam continued to pour into the chamber for many minutes.

THE HARR ININS JAILED TOGETHER. Charles, Who is Napoleon Wood, Says Brother Henry is Innocent.

Charles and Henry Harris, who were arrested ward, were recognized yesterday as Charles W. and Henry Hahr. They are twins. Charles admitted yesterday that he was the Allen H. Wood known some years ago as "Napoleon"

Wood married a daughter of Louis Bressler. Aaron Kahn a lawyer, who married another daughter of Mr. Bressler, says that Wood defrauded Bressier out of $400,000. He caused a stir by starting to build the West End Theatre in Harlem. He announced the formation of a big stock company and the engagement of Tommy Russell. Actors and actresses were signed at large salaries, there was a big time at the laying of the corner stone, and, shortly afterward, Wood got out of money and left the city. On Sept. 15, 1884, Wood forged a check for $125 on the First National Bank of Prov. dence, but influence saved him from imprisonment. He was before Justice Meade some time ago on the charge of deserting his wife. She tried to get alimony from him but, as he hadn't enough to support himself, she didn't succeed.

The two men were seen in their cell in the Charles street station yesterday. "I want to say one thing right here," Wood told a Sun reporter, "and that is that my brother has been treated unjustly. He was arrested merely because he was in my company. He has been money and left the city. On Sept. 15, 1884.

because he was in my company. He has been in this cell forty-eight hours, and he has not yet had a hearing. The poor fellow has done in this cell forty-eight hours, and he has not yet had a hearing. The poor fellow has done nothing."

"You mustn't put too much faith in what my brother says." Henry Hahr remarked to the reporter. "He's crazy. That is, he is not dangerous, but his mind is not quite right. Ten years ago, when he was 18 years of age, he was thrown from his horse at Sarntoga. He fell on his head and injured his spinal column and orain. Since then he has been sunstruck twice. Ever since the second sunstruke he has been growing weaker in the head."

Several persons called at the Charles street station house yesterday and identified Wood as the man who had swindled them. From their statements it appears that Wood's chief game was to go to some woman and represent himself as an officer of Mr. Gerry's society. He would tell the woman that her son had been sent to the reformatory for having broken store windows, but that he could. "quare the case" for a consideration In that way he is said to have swindled many women out of sums ranging from 10 cents to $50. Among other offences he is said to have swindled the widow of Policeman Sherman, who was murdered while on duty, out of $3.50. According to Capt. Copeland, another of Wood's schemes was to say that he was a reporter, and that if well raid he could keep out of a certain paper sensational articles about familes who had got into trouble. Among those who identified Wood yesterday as the man who had swindled them were Mrs. L'azie Williams of 644 Sixth avenue, Mrs. Catharine Parsons of 587 Lexing on avenue, Mrs. Valter Moorcraft of 348 East Eighth street, and Mrs. William Woodman of 160 West Seventy-nith street.

Wood and his brother were remanded at Jeferson Market until this morning.

NIGHT TRAVEL IN BROOKLYN.

The Union Elevated Road Will Run Half-Hourly Trains to East New York.

Brooklyn is getting to be quite a city. The Union Elevated Railroad will put on all-night trains on its Lexington avenue and East New York branch on Monday, and in due course of time promises to extend the improved schedule to the other branches of the road. The Kings County elevated trains have been crowded right along and have done a paying business almost from the start, carrying man persons whose conveniences will be much better served by the Union elevated.

The directors of the road determined vester-The directors of the road determined yesterday to begin running night trains at half-hourly intervals on Monday next, leaving the bridge at 1:30, and then every thirty minutes unti 5 A. M., when the regular schedule will go into effect. It is the intention of the company, too, to add smoking cars to the trains, the experimental smokers put on the Kings County having proved a great success.

There are hundreds of brinters and other workers in the newspaper offices in New York who live in Brooklyn and go home very late at nig t or very early in the morning, in addition to many persons whose business or social duties keep them out late at night. Besides these, the Brooklys newsdealers and marketmen will avail themselves of the early morning trains to the bridge, making altogether a volume of night travel that would quite surprise the ordinary Brooklynite who retires at early candle light.

The Union elevated extension through the Twenty-sixth ward to the city line has been determined upon, and the iron work is being made for it. The date of beginning work on the structure will probably be fixed soon. Meantime the Kings County road is hard at work on its extension through the southern part of the Twenty-sixth ward, and these added facilities of travel are stimulating building and the growth of the ward. day to begin running night trains at half-

It is thought that the only personal appointment Mr. Turner will make will be his private secretary.

A Musical Wonder,

The opera season is again upon us. It is an undoubt ed relief to many that the Wagnerian music is to be sacrificed in a measure to lighter and more popular French and Italian selections. Beloved: as the German school is by the majority of musicians, the fact remains that the American public is not yet educated to the point of appreciating its beauty; the main cause, the infrequency with which the masterpleces of Ger-man composers are heard. Few amateurs attempt their interpretation; the chance of enjoying their production by professionals is attended with considerable expense. There was never a time when that instru ment of recent American invention—the Zolian—was more needed or more welcome: and undoubtedly it will do much to familiarize in the home the more ad-vanced class of music. In the form of an upright plane, but of organ construction, it is really an orchestral in-striment, resembling notbing but itself; the distin-quishing fratures, that it is practically automatic but for the working of the pedals and the manipulating of the stops, and that if renders the higher grades of classic music—for which, indeed, it is especially suited— with orchestral effect, due to the fact that twenty or thirty notes may be sounded at a time. However, all classes of music are played equally well—symphonies, overtures, nocturnes, dance music, accompaniments, &c. The repertoire of the £0idan at present embrace over 5,000 selections, added to at the rate of 100 places monthly. Anything a customer may want is published on application. It is scarcely possible to fully appreciate the power of this instrument unless it is seen and heard. The head-quarters are at 18 West 23d st.—dele.
